For the first time for years the privilege of a member of Congress was pleaded in the courts of Washington on the 7th inst., in a case of debt. Senator Sprague, of Rhode Island, pleaded his privilege as McKenna, who wanted to bring an action for a small debt. Under the privilege no member can be sued here or while coming from or returning to his home.

John Reeves, a carpenter, was murdered at Terre Haute, on the 6th inst., by a former employe named John L. Stevens. Th cause of the murder appears to be that Stevens claimed money which Reeves had already paid for Stevens' board, and on Reeves refusing to pay it over, Stevens de liberately shot him three times, killing him instantly. Stevens was immediately arrested and is now in jail.

Mrs. Cady Stanton, who has been canvassing among Congressmen at Washington for her new paper, says she is surprised to learn, on the best authority, that probably two-thirds of the set speeches read from manuscript are not the production of those who deliverd them, but are prepared by newspaper reporters, and the literary gentlemen at Washington.

The Conservative Army and Navy Union of Washington are arranging for National Convention, which will be held in May or June, when they may nominate a ticket for President and Vice President, which will represent the conservative and patriotic ideas of the soldiers as well as citizens, or they may recommend some person to the Democratic National Convention as their choice. It does not necessarily follow because it is a soldiers' convention, that they will express a preference for military men, as their sole object is to promote the success and the Demo cratic and Conservative cause.

Negro equality is not popular with soldiers. A few days ago one Tucker addressed the negroes about Warrenton, Va., advising them not to work for any one without they were admitted to the family circle and otherwise recognized as equals. The soldiers there became so incensed that they made an assault on him, and the officers o that post had to escort him to the depot, to the idlers will all have to go to work to save him from the infuriated soldiers. Citizens took no part in the difficulty. The result of his teachings is the negroes have left their employers, and are living on the Bureau. IMPEACHMENT is the panacea for the ills that beset Radicalism, or rather the obstacles that stand in the way of the usurpation of the Radical party. THE RU-KLUX REVELATIONS. We print this morning what purports be a revelation of the oath, grip, password, and objects of the organization ommorly known as the Ku-Klux Klan, Its accuracy is not vouched for, for its source is not authentic, but on the contrary is one casting strong suspicion on its genuineness. Indeed, we do not vouch that there is any such association in existence, and are far from regarding the paper of the Memphis Superintendent of Police as reliable proof. He prefaces it with the story of the mode in which it ame into his possession, which the pubic will receive for what they may deem t worth. In publishing it, we do not detire to pander to prurient curiosity for the horrible and mysterious, but to inform the public in regard to matters in which, whether this farrago be true or false, they have a deep interest. For, if it be the first, it indicates a state of society truly appalling, and it is proper that it should be realized at once; and if it is a Radical invention to excite prejudice and form a pretext for tyranny and oppression, it should be exhibited and exposed if pos-We have said it was fearful to contem plate a condition of society that could bring into existence an organization of the character imputed in Mr. Beaumont's publication. If it exists, however, there s a need for it, and the cause is as bad as the consequence. Sane and civilized men do not bind themselves by such oaths, and band themselves into such associations in mere wantonnesss. No body of men in Tennessee, or any other Southera State, would deliberately adopt such means of protection, unless they were made desperate by a ruthless and intolerable despotism. The world will refuse to believe it possible that any considerable number of individuals, young, middle-aged or old, have leagued together with such awful oaths and direful purposes, without justification. If, then, this be Ku-Kluxism, and a veritable thing, it is a terrible testimony against the misgovernment that has wrought it, and the most overwhelming condemnation that can be adduced against Radicalism. It proves that the latter has broken up the very foundations of law and order, and sundered the ties which sustain the social fabric; and has precipitated a contest between the strong hand of a government seeking to oppress the superior class beneath the domination of the inferior, and the aggrieved who resist this unnatural and unjust policy, that if not soon

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.

Last fall Gen. Howard reported that there was no necessity for the continuation of the Freedmen's Bureau, and recommended that it be turned over to the supervision of the military commanders in the Southern States. But the Radicals, many of whom are connected with the bureau in some capacity, who profit by the negro vo'e, became alarmed at this suggestion, and forthwith set to work mportuning Congress to continue the bureau for at least one year longer, in Senator against his late gardener, Wm. the hope that "reconstruction" would take place within that period, and that they would be embled to get the offices in the various States through the negro vote. But this political machine is maintained at a heavy expense to he people, and the heavily taxed in the Northern States are beginning to grumble at this imposition for the benefit of a few adventurers and political gamblers. The St Louis Democrat, one of the most Radical of the Western organs of the Republican-

"We find it very difficult to understand he reasons of Congress for voting to coninue the Freedmen's Bureau another year. The Philadelphia North American mother organ of the Republican party, whose radicalism will not be questioned says of this grand government machine

"The distribution of free rations at the outh is a gigantic evil. The commerce and industry of the whole nation earnestly demand the rebuilding of the prosperity of the cotton culture, while here stands a national bureau ready to feed all the freedmen, whether they work or not. How under such circumstances the cotton culture is ever to regain its former pitch of importance we cannot see. Gen. Howard attempts to remedy the evil by loaning to the planters millions of the money of the bureau on the security of their crops. But had it not been for his ration nuisance, these planters would have stood in no need of such aid: and whether they do or not, we think it is not the business of the government to play the part of the banker for the planters. The existence of the bureau should terminate with the admission of the reconstruct ed States. Gen. Howard himself recommended the discontinuance of the hursan at the time fixed by law. The courts of the South are now all open to the freedmen, who stand there in full equality, as parties or witnesses, with any other race in the country. They have the civil institutions in their grasp. The bureau is, there-fore, no longer needed. If it be abolished, carn their livelihood. These are only specimens of the protests which the more candid of the Republican papers are uttering against the continuance of this partisan institution. But the Radical members of Congress have decided that the interests of their party demand that the bureau shall be continued, and that the millions which will be required by this institution for taws, Canada. The ball passed through the support of the negroes in the South McGee's head and lodged in the door, must be furnished by the government would not concede the rigt of the petitioners premonition of the terrible fate about to which he opened. HUGH WILSON and John Barrier courted the same lady in Neshoba county, Mississippi. Barrier married her, but she left the house of his mother immediately after the cerimony, in company with a brother of her other lover, Wilson. Some days after, Wilson met the parson who tied the nuptial knot and manifested his displeasure at that proceeding by beating the unlucky preacher with a hickory stick. We presume from the serious style in which the announcement is made, that some Radical ignoramuses had been laying this flattering unction to their guilty souls. The Press and Times is careful to admonish them that this is a most "inexcusable mistake," and to urge "caution." Be wary, it says. Ejection from the Presis dency will only unfetter a monster; and transported with fright, the editor's horror-struck imagination pictures numerous calamities. First, he may become Governor of Kentucky, and inaugurate another war against "the best government the world ever saw;" or he may take command of things in Delaware, and sitting at her capital-"squat like a toad" -make untold mischief; or worst of all, after swinging round an immense circle, may return to Tennessee, and squelching out the gubernatorial aspirations of some such "trooly loil" son as Stokes or Mullins, finally land in the United States Senate again, and there be a thorn in the side of his persecutors for an indefinite

The opinion that Mr. Johnson would be rendered by conviction, disqualified for any office under a State government, is an error. Article I section 3 of the Constitution says:

'Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend beyond removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit un r the United States." Membership of either house of Congress is not an office under the United States, and the ex-President would therefore not be ineligible to fill such a position, and, of course, would be competent performed within the limits of the State. This is a clear proposition.

We are not arguing it, however, as if were disputed, but have alluded to the subject, merely to notice the consternation which Tennessee Radicals are suffering at the bare thought of being brought face to face again with that tribune of the people. Andrew Johnson is still President, and if the Tennessee Radical ingrates who fed from his hand for three years, will let him alone, he dread; but if they successfully hound opening address, and no business was in orhim to deposition, he may turn and rend them. Blood may not flow here, as the truculent Stokes predicts, but the fur would fly, they may be sure.

THE Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes on the 6th inst.

"Ex-Governor Pierpont, of Virginia, together with some of his political friends, arrived here this evening to try and induce Gen. Grant to set aside the action of Gen. Schofield in removing Pierpont. Gen. Grant heard the whole case, and after a full examination of the matter, positively refused to interfere, and so informed Gen. Schofield, and his new appointee, Wells, will be inaugurated to-day. It is also known that Gen. Grant heartily approves the action of Gen. Schofield concerning the refilling of those offices where the terms of present occupants have expired. Pierpont is very much enraged, both at Gen, Schofield and at Grant, and is busy repeating stories concerning the former, among newspaper men to-night, which are known to be wholly unfounded, and circulated deliberately, in order to create sympathy for himself and cover up the total inefficiency of his administration.

These Radicals seem to know each other remarkably well. Pierpont was a very good Governor until he fell under the ban of Schofield, when it was pros claimed that he was totally inefficient. We shall now see what Pierpont thinks of Schofield.

HABEAS CORPUS.

Judge Waldran Decides he has no Inrisdiction in the Avalanche Case. From the Memphis Avalanche, April 7. At ten o'clock yesterday morning the Municipal Court room was filled with spectators, drawn thither to hear the decisio of Judge George W. Waldran in the Avaanche habeas corpus case, announced to be delivered at that hour. The proceedings and Wheeling, appeared to day. being somewhat delayed, the decision was not delivered until nearly eleven o'clock. The majority of the spectators, antici pating a discharge of the petioners, were not a little taken aback by the decision and for several minutes after its announce ment, a profound silence prevailed.

New York, April 8 .- The various suits n the Erie litigation came up before the Supreme Court in the general term to-day. On appeals from the order suspending Mr. Drew from several injunctions, and from the order appointing a Receiver. Mr. Burnell opened the case for Drew in a rgument against the legality of the apintment of Osgood as Receiver, contendig the convertible bonds were authorized the general railroad act of 1850, and at the action of the Erie directors was anctioned by that of other companies, in luding the New York Central and Hudon. As to the proceeds of the stock, the ppointment of Receiver was erroneous, beause the stock was in the hands of the mocent third parties, while even were it legally issued and the proceeds in the ands of the company, no cause would exist for the appointment of Receiver. On these grounds the defendants demanded a reversal of the order, with the costs, ontending the stock was fradulently issued, and that a large sum improperly obtained therefrom, and the order for a Receiver hould be made permanent.

William Field continues his argument o-morrow for appellants, In the case of Schell vs. the Eric Raiload Company, before Judge Barnard, the inswer of Jay Gould to the attachment for iolation of the injunction was filed. He enies having any knowledge of the issue of 50,000 shares in stock, but believes the certificates of stock in blank were made by the officers of the company before the injunction, and that the Executive Committee issued convertible bonds to the extent of ten millions, half of which passed into the hands of Groesbeck, and half to Daniel Drew. The same evidence on the subject was submitted, but no conclusion reached, and the argument in habeas corpus case

The Assassination of Hon. Thomas D. McGee.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The World's Ottawa special of midnight, says the assassination of Hon, Thomas D. McGee has thrown the city into the greatest gloom. No clue has been got of the assassin. The flags are half mast, and the event is freely discussed in all quarters of the city. Parliament it is believed will pass resolutions to-morrow denouncing the murderer or murderers, and profering sympathy to the bereaved widow. All day long the House of Parliament has been thronged with people eager to get information in regard to the crime. To-day Hon. Messra. Galt, Mr. Speaker Cockburne, Hon. Mr. Doran and other members of the government, colleagues of the deceased, paid a visit to the bereaved widow, who is almost insane with grief, and sought to console her in her trouble and affliction. The different volunteer corps met to-night, and great excitement prevailed, and it was believed by some that another Fenian raid was about to commence. On Saturday evening Mr. The murder has created an intense feel-

The body will be met to-morrow by the tizens en massee, and the funeral will take place Friday. The body is to lay in state Thursday, and a grand funeral car is being built. The funeral is to be a great popular demonstration. Sixty thousand persons is expected to be present. The police are on the alert, and the outlets to the States are closed. The Royal proclamation is placarded everywhere. The Fenian leaders here are very quiet. OTTAWA, April 7-Evening.-The adourned inquest was resumed in the afternoon, and a large number of witnesses were examined. The evidence taken was mainly in connection with the finding of the body after the murder. The case against Whelan deepens hourly. The government detectives are in possession of a strong chain of evidence implicaing him, and the Crown reckons confidentially on his being the man. A loaded revolver was found on his person when arrested, and a cartridge in one of the chambers was evidently new. This chamber bore traces of having been recently discharged; other chambers were bright and clear. The bullets with which it was loaded were exactly the same as that which killed Mr. McGee. It is generally believed that a gang of ruffians are mixed up with the assassination. Two or three parties, against whom there is strong circumstantial evidence, were arrested as accomplices of Whelan, In order to expedite the trial, the Crown will probably take the case out of the hands of the Coroner to-morrow, and then it will be brought before the Police Court.

Communication from the Comm sioner of Indian Affairs. WASHINGTON, April 8 .- The Secretary of the Interior sent to the House to day a communication from the Commissioner Indian Affairs, who says, referring to official reports of the 20th and 21st of February last, in which reference was made to the necessity of certain appropriations being made at an early day in order that the faith of the government and the promises of the Indian Peace Commiss may be kept good. I desire to say that it is evident to my mind, unless immediate action is had by Congress upon the estimates referred to in said reports, and the necesary funds appropriated to enable the Com-McDevitt 481. missioners to carry out and fulfill the promises made with certain tribes, we shall have trouble with them. I am led to believe this from various rumors that have reached this office of the feelings and in tentions of certain bands and tribes on the plains. If we expect to keep the Indians friendly with the government and at peace with it, we must fulfill our promise otherwise we can but expect, as would be the case were we dealing with white men and Christians, and a renewal of the troubles of last summer. Besides, if our agreements are not faithfully carried out, the Indians will soon loose all confidence in the government; they will believe no thing told them by its officers, and an al most endless war will be the result, which will cost millions of dollars to suppress, and to avoid which thousands are only asked. This question has become of so grave importance that I deem it my duty again to invite your attention to it if we are to have another Indian war this sum mer. Washington Items.
